The conditions for obtaining medicinal cannabis

Since July 2018, Luxembourgish legislation has provided for the prescription of cannabis for medicinal use as part of a pilot phase.

Authorised products

- Dried flowering tops (with defined THC and CBD contents)
- Oil extracts with defined THC and CBD contents available from 2022
- Medicines (Sativex and Epidyolex) with an MA*

For which conditions?

- Serious chronic diseases classified as long-term illnesses (affections de long durée – ALD) referred to in Article 19bis, paragraph 1 of the Luxembourg Social Security Code, at an advanced or terminal stage, causing chronic and debilitating pain which has not responded to the available therapies, or without conventional treatments available.
- Cancerous diseases, other than those referred to in the first indent, which are treated by chemotherapy, leading to nausea or vomiting.
- Multiple sclerosis with symptomatic muscle spasticity.

For whom?

Patients must meet one of the following criteria:

- Live in Luxembourg,
- Be a beneficiary of the Luxembourg health insurance system,
- Have Luxembourgish nationality.

How to obtain it?

Medicinal cannabis can only be prescribed by a doctor who is authorised to practise medicine in Luxembourg and has completed a specific training course certified by the Health Directorate**

Where to obtain it?

- Medicinal cannabis can be obtained from hospital pharmacies in Luxembourg
- It is dispensed to patients free of charge upon presentation of a secure medical prescription extracted from a counterfoil book
